29
30 COMES NOW plaintiffs, Kayla Cashman by and through her Guardian ad Litem
31 Bernadette Hilgeman, and Stephen Cashman, individually and for causes of action against 32 defendants and each of them, complains and alleges as follows:

33
34 This is a lawsuit for money damages and is brought pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §1983, et seq., 35 and the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution, for personal injuries and violation of plaintiff, Kayla Cashman's constitutional rights by defendants, Jesus Montana and James Good and DOES 1-10. Jurisdiction is founded on 28 U.S.C. §§1331, 1343 and the aforementioned statutory and Constitutional provisions. State claims for negligence, Civil Rights violation, false arrest and intentional infliction of emotional distress are alleged as well, and plaintiffs invoke the Court's supplemental jurisdiction to consider these state law claims.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

1. Plaintiff, KAYLA CASHMAN, is a minor and resident of San Diego, California, and the accident complained herein occurred in the County of San Diego. Plaintiff is a minor having been born on July 11, 1991. Plaintiff alleges and affirms that a proper governmental claim was submitted to the San Diego Unified School District for the injuries alleged herein, and such claim was denied, in a letter dated September 24, 2007, and thereafter mailed by the District. Following the Dismissal of all charges in the criminal action, a second claim was submitted to the District and Patrick Henry High School on March 7, 2008, which claim was summarily denied on March 19, 2008. The time for bringing this complaint is within the statutory timelines provided by law.

2. Plaintiff, Stephen Cashman, is a resident of the County of San Diego. Plaintiff alleges and affirms that a proper governmental claim was submitted to the San Diego Unified School District for the injuries alleged herein, and such claim was denied, in a letter dated September 24, 2007, and thereafter mailed by the District. The original complaint brought herein was filed within the requisite statutory period for bringing such claims.

3. Defendant SAN DIEGO UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT (hereinafter "District") at all times relevant to this complaint was and/or is a governmental agency and/or District and which is subject to the Government code. The District owns and operates Patrick Henry High School wherein the acts herein complained occurred on and after March 31, 2007.

4. Defendant JAMES GOOD (hereinafter "Good") at all times relevant to this complaint was and/or is a resident of San Diego, and further, during all relevant times to this complaint was acting outside the authority provided to him as a District, and whose actions were so reprehensible as to subject him to independent liability for the acts complained of herein.

5. Defendant, JESUS MONTANA (hereinafter "Montana") at all times relevant to this complaint was and/or is a resident of San Diego, and further, during all relevant times to this complaint was acting within his authority as a campus policeman as a governmental official, and was acting with the color of authority afforded a peace officer and at all time relevant to this amended complaint exercised his authority as a policeman in contravention to the Constitutional rights of plaintiff, Kayla Cashman.

6 Plaintiff is unaware of the true names and capacities of the defendants named as DOES 1 through 50, and therefore sue these defendants as fictitious parties. Plaintiff will, upon learning the true names and capacities of these DOE defendants, seek leave to amend the complaint so that the true names and capacities of these individuals may be added to the complaint. At this time, Plaintiff states on information and belief that each of the fictitiously named defendants was at all pertinent times acting as the agent of the named defendants and one another and are responsible in some manner for the events and happenings herein referred to and caused injuries and damages proximately thereby as hereinafter alleged.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

7. On or about March 31, 2007, plaintiff was a student at Patrick Henry High School (hereinafter referred to as PHHS) which is part of the San Diego Unified School District. Plaintiff was a member of the Patrick Henry High School track team and was participating in the Elmer Runge Invitational track meet sponsored by PHHS. Prior to the meet, plaintiff and other PHHS track athletes were advised and requested to assist visiting team coaches, with transportation of equipment.

8. According to PHHS custom and practice, students were utilized to operate District owned golf and/or utility carts during the course of the track meet. District employees provided keys and authority to student's to operate the golf carts. On March 31, 2007, two (2) such students were selected, but the responsible teacher/coach never verified California Driver's license status or pre-existing disciplinary actions taken against either student. Neither student recall being told other kids could not drive the carts. The students with the keys to the carts were not monitored or supervised while the carts were used at the track meet.

8. Prior to 3:00 pm, on March 31, 2007, plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, saw students driving the golf carts and helping put away cones and other materials utilized during the course of the track meet. She subsequently only saw one cart being used, because one had ceased to operate.

9. At approximately, 3:00 pm March 31, 2007, Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, was asked by one of the students driving the cart, if she wanted to drive, too which she responded yes. While watching an event, one of the visiting track coaches requested assistance with materials he needed taken to his car. Plaintiff agreed to assist, and she along with the other students took the coaches equipment to his car which was parked on an upper level on PHHS property.

10. While returning to the main field level, plaintiff lost control of the cart, and crashed into a cyclone fence causing herself injury, which included a broken ankle requiring internal fixation and multiple surgeries. As of the date of this filing plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, continues to suffer pain and discomfort in her ankle, and continues to have hardware embedded in her ankle. Plaintiff never left school ground with the cart.

11. District personnel were aware of the accident and injuries on March 31, 2007. PHHS students were on Spring Break from April 2nd through and including April 6, 2007. Neither Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, nor her parents were contacted regarding the cause of the accident during Spring Break.

12. Campus police officer, Defendant Montana, received formal notification of the accident on Sunday, April 2, 2007, via e-mail. On April 9, 2007, the students, including plaintiff returned to School. Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, was removed from her fifth period class, and escorted by campus security assistant's to Defendant Montana's office. Prior to conducting interrogation, defendant Montana was aware that a criminal offense had been committed, and that Plaintiff was the primary if not only alleged culprit. Officer Montana was unaware of the Constitutional requirement requiring a parent or other adult be present during an interrogation. Officer Montana was unaware of any District policy requiring a parent be present during an interrogation. Officer Montana conducted the interrogation with only him and plaintiff present in violation of plaintiff's Constitutional rights. After the interrogation, Officer Montana arrested plaintiff for stealing the golf cart and vandalism. Defendant Montana should have known of the Constitutional restrictions relating to the interrogation of minor children. Plaintiff had committed no crime, nor was there probable cause to believe that she had committed a crime. Plaintiff was unlawfully arrested by defendant Montana and charged with several false criminal charges resulting from the above-described incident.

13. Officer Montana subsequently released Plaintiff to defendant good, advising defendant Good of the arrest. Defendant Good thereafter repeatedly questioned plaintiff without the presence of an adult and sought further incriminating evidence against plaintiff. Both defendant Montana and defendant Good, repeatedly advised plaintiff that all charges and disciplinary action would go away if she and/or her father agreed to pay for the damage to the cart. Plaintiff refused.

14. Defendant Good thereafter contacted plaintiff, Stephen Cashman, and advised him that his daughter had been arrested, for felony theft and vandalism arising out of the golf cart incident, and further advised plaintiff Stephen Cashman that all charges would be dismissed and disciplinary action would stop, if Stephen Cashman agreed to pay for damage to the cart.

15. Plaintiffs' refused to pay for the golf cart repairs, and appealed the suspension. Based upon further investigation by the Defendant District, the Amended suspension form was to delete any reference to property theft. Despite these representations by the DISTRICT on March 6, 2008, plaintiff, Kayla Cashman formally appeared for trial on felony counts of theft and malicious vandalism. Despite the self – serving testimony of Officer Montana, the Court, per the Honorable, Judge Cynthia Bashant, granted defendants §1118 motion and dismissed all charges against plaintiff, Kayla Cashman after the prosecution rested its case in chief for lack of evidence.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

[42 U.S.C. §1983 Constitutional Violations—
Unlawful Search and Seizure and Excessive Force]

16. Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, by and through her Guardian ad Litem realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in Paragraphs 1 through 15 above as though fully set forth herein.

17. As a result of the acts alleged above, particularly the unlawful detentions, unlawful arrest and unlawful seizures of Plaintiff as described above, Plaintiff was unlawfully seized by Defendant Montana, by virtue of the actions of officer Montana and Good, without a warrant, probable cause or reasonable suspicion, and without conducting a proper investigation.
Thus, Plaintiff suffered an unlawful seizure in violation of her constitutional rights as guaranteed by the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution. As a result, Plaintiff is entitled to damages pursuant to Title 42 U.S.C. § 1983, et seq. in an amount to be proven at trial.

18. As a further result of the acts alleged above, defendants, Montana and Good used unreasonable, unjustified threat of excessive force and coercion upon Plaintiff Kayla Cashman.
This unreasonable and excessive use of force constituted an unlawful seizure, in violation of Plaintiff's Constitutional rights as guaranteed by the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution. As a result, Plaintiff Kayla Cashman is entitled to damages pursuant to Title 42
U.S.C. § 1983 in an amount to be proven at trial.

19. As a further result of the acts alleged above, particularly the acts of filing false and/or inaccurate police reports which caused Plaintiff Kayla Cashman to be falsely charged with criminal violations, Plaintiff Kayla Cashman suffered an unlawful and/or malicious prosecution in violation of her right against unreasonable seizures as guaranteed by the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. As a result, Plaintiff Kayla Cashman is entitled to damages pursuant to Title 42 U.S.C. section 183, et seq. in an amount to be proven in trial.

1           20. In committing and witnessing the acts alleged above, defendants, Montana and 2           Good and each of them failed to prevent, stop and/or intervene in these unprovoked and 3           unjustified acts of unlawful detention/arrest, excessive force and/or malicious prosecution against 4           Plaintiff, and failed to protect Plaintiff from these constitutional violations by its employees
5           and/or agents, thereby violating Plaintiffs' Fourth Amendment rights.

6           21. As a proximate result of the acts alleged above, Plaintiff was injured in mind and 7           body. Plaintiff suffered severe emotional distress from her unlawful seizures and the acts of 8           threats by defendant Montana and Good. Plaintiff suffered additional emotional distress from her 9           wrongful incarceration and her false/malicious prosecution. Plaintiff is therefore entitled to 10          general and compensatory damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

13           SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

14           [42 U.S.C. § Constitutional Violations via 15           Unlawful Policies, Customs or Habits]

16           22. Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, by and through her Guardian ad Litem realleges and
17           incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in Paragraphs 1 through 15 above
18           as though fully set forth herein.

19           23. On information and belief Plaintiff Kayla Cashman alleges that defendant
20           Montana individually, and while acting as a member of the District's campus police, utilized
21           Defendant District's unlawful policies, customs and habits of improper and inadequate
22           investigation and hiring, training, retention, discipline and supervision of it's officers, 23           proximately causing the constitutional deprivations, injuries and damages alleged in the First 24           Cause of Action. Plaintiff alleges that the policies established by the DISTRICT and which were 25           enforced by Defendant Montana, violate Constitutional rights by failing to require a parent be 26           present during interrogations, and as such the DISTRICT and defendant Montana violated its 27
28

1 fiduciary duty to act as In loco parentis and violates its obligations to act as In loco parentis.
2 Plaintiff is further informed and believe that other citizens have been treated unlawfully and
3 abused by officers, but the District, and Defendant Montana, have a custom, policy or practice of 4 failing to properly protect the rights of minor's by failing to contact a parent prior to 5 interrogations, thus leading to the Constitutional violations against Plaintiffs as described above.
6 As a result, Plaintiff is entitled to damages pursuant to Title 42 U.S.C. § 1983, in an amount to be 7 proven at trial.

8
9 24. Further, on information and belief Plaintiff's allege that defendant District, acting
10 by and through the campus police, in this case, defendant Montana has an unlawful policy, 11 custom or habit of permitting or condoning unlawful seizures and detentions, by its campus 12 police force,, and of permitting and condoning unlawful interrogations by its officers, which led 13 to unlawful search and seizure. Defendant District has a further unlawful policy, custom and 14 habit of inadequate training, supervision and discipline of its officers, including defendant
15 Montana, involved in this incident.

16
17 25. Specifically, the District and defendant Montana refused and failed to investigate 18 the complaint, of Plaintiffs' herein. Indeed, District and defendant Montana refused to 19 investigate Plaintiffs' complaint based solely upon the police report of the very officer that 20 abused Plaintiff who was the subject of Plaintiffs' complaint and whose version of this incident
21 Plaintiff vigorously disputed. In short, the District reached a conclusion that the defendant 22 Montana & administration acted properly without an investigation, without interviewing several 23 civilian witnesses and despite the fact that a Superior Court judge dismissed Plaintiff Kayla 24 Cashman's criminal case as a result of her finding that Plaintiffs were unlawfully seized by the 25 defendant Montana, in violation of their Fourth Amendment rights, and finding no credible
26 evidence to support the charges and/or crimes.

26. These policies and failures constituted additional ratification of and acquiescence in acts of, false arrest, unlawful search and seizure and other improprieties by the District and defendant Montana, which thereby encourages officers, such as Montana, to continue to commit additional improprieties, then prepare false and inaccurate reports. These policies and failures were the moving force behind the injuries suffered by Plaintiff, constituted ratification by the District and also constituted deliberate indifference to the rights and safety of Plaintiff, in particular, and other members of the public by defendant Montana.

27. As a proximate result of the unlawful policies, customs and habits alleged above, Plaintiffs suffered the constitutional violations, injuries and damages alleged in the First Cause of Action and thus are entitled to general and compensatory damages against defendant Montana in an amount to be proven at trial.

STATE LAW CLAIMS

16 The following claims are brought under California law on behalf of both Plaintiffs.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

19 [Negligence]

20 28. Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, by and through her Guardian ad Litem realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 15 above as though fully set forth herein.

23 29. By the acts alleged above, Defendant District was negligent and breached its duty
24 of due care owed to Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, thereby causing the injuries and severe emotional 25 distress as described in the Factual Allegations and the First Cause of Action, particularly 26 paragraphs 6 through 20 above. Plaintiffs are therefore entitled to general and compensatory 27 damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

1           30. Defendant, DISTRICT was further negligent in permitting student's to drive and 2           utilize the golf carts without supervisory control, monitoring and oversight.

3           31. Defendant District's failure to control and/or monitor and/or supervise the 4           operation of the carts led directly to Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman's operating the cart and suffering
5           of physical injuries by way of the cart running into the fence. Said inaction and failures by the 6           DISTRICT was the proximate cause of plaintiff's injuries arising from the collision with the 7           fence and for which she has suffered injury and incurred expenses, physical deformity, pain and 8           suffering and distress.

10          32. Further, Plaintiff is entitled to recover for the emotional distress she suffered as a 11         result of the action of the District. Plaintiff is therefore entitled to recover general and 12         compensatory damages for their emotional distress in an amount to be proven at trial.
13

15           FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

16           [False Arrest/False Imprisonment]

17          33. Plaintiff , Kayla Cashman, by and through her Guardian ad Litem realleges and
18         incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 32 above as though
19         fully set forth herein.

20          34. By the acts alleged herein, particularly the act of unlawfully detaining, falsely
21         arresting and/or falsely imprisoning Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, without a warrant or probable 22         cause, Plaintiff was falsely arrested and/or falsely imprisoned, entitling her to damages pursuant 23         to California law.

24          35. As a result of these acts, Plaintiff suffered the injuries and damages described in 25         the Factual Allegations and paragraphs 6 through 30 above and severe pain, suffering and/or 26         emotional distress, and legal fees and costs to defend herself in the criminal proceeding entitling 27         her to damages in an amount to be proven at trial.
28

1           36. In committing the acts alleged above, the individually named defendants acted
2 maliciously and/or oppressively and were guilty of a wanton and reckless disregard for the rights,
3 feelings and safety of Plaintiffs and by reason thereof Plaintiffs are entitled to exemplary and 4 punitive damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

5

6           FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

7           [Civil Code § 52.1 Civil Rights Violation]

8           37. Plaintiff, Kayla Cashman, by and through her Guardian ad Litem realleges and
9 incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 36 above as though
10 fully set forth herein.

11           38. The acts alleged above, particularly the acts of unjustified criminal prosecution
12 and unreasonable search and seizure, constituted an unlawful seizure, in violation of Plaintiff, 13 Kayla Cashman's, rights guaranteed by the California Constitution (Article I, Section 13) and the 14 United States Constitution, specifically the Fourth Amendment thereto. These acts were 15 committed by threats, intimidation and/or coercion. Therefore, Plaintiff is entitled to damages
16 pursuant to California Civil Code section 52.1(b).

17           39. As a result of these acts, Plaintiff suffered the injuries and damages described in 18 the Factual Allegations and paragraphs 28 through 33 above and severe pain, suffering and 19 emotional distress, entitling her to damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

20           40. In committing the acts alleged above, the individually named defendants acted
21 maliciously and/or oppressively and were guilty of a wanton and reckless disregard for the rights, 22 feelings and safety of Plaintiff and by reason thereof Plaintiff is entitled to exemplary and 23 punitive damages in the amount to be proven at trial.

24

25           SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

26           [Intention Infliction of Emotional Distress]

41. Plaintiff, Stephen Cashman, realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 15 above as though fully set forth herein.

42. In committing the acts hereinbefore described Defendant Good crossed the bounds of human decency by informing plaintiff, Stephen Cashman that his daughter had been arrested and expelled from school, unless and until either plaintiff agreed to pay for the damage caused to the cart which was the result of defendant's own acts and/or omissions. That at the time, Defendant Good made the statements he intended to provoke and did provoke an angry response from plaintiff, and to coerce and/or extort the money Good was demanding for the cart repair.

43. As a result of hearing the statements uttered by defendant Good, plaintiff Stephen Cashman had an immediate and lasting angry emotional response.

44. During all relevant times hereto defendant Good knew or should have known that his statements were likely to cause and did in fact cause an immediate and long lasting emotional response which was substantially caused by the actions of defendant Good.

45. In committing the acts alleged above, the individually named defendant acted maliciously and/or oppressively and was guilty of a wanton and reckless disregard for the rights, feelings and safety of Plaintiff Stephen Cashman and by reason thereof Plaintiffs are entitled to exemplary and punitive damages in the amount to be proven at trial.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs prays for judgment against the defendants, and each of them, as follows:

1. For general and compensatory damages against defendants and each of them in the amount to be proven at trial;
  2. For exemplary and punitive damages against all defendants except defendant San Diego Unified School District, in an amount to be proven at trial;
